

Ideal Green Building Material

Basalt fibre is widely used as an insulating, heat-insulating and sound-insulating material.

If the fibre is mass-produced by an industrial method, it is possible to solve the problem of heat-insulating material arising in introducing advanced green architecture.

And all the by-products can be recycled as an energy-saving material.