

Examining Sample School Uniforms with Pleasure

On New Year's Day in 2022, the respected Comrade Kim Jong Un examined the samples of new school uniforms to be supplied to pupils of primary schools and junior and senior middle schools and university students across the country.

Busy as he was with state affairs, he had already selected the sample uniforms one by one.

He said with satisfaction: The sample uniforms were made well. If our pupils and students are out in such new uniforms, their parents would be happy and the whole country would become bright. We should make the uniforms with sincerity as required by the good samples. I would be relieved of a great anxiety if all our pupils and students put on new uniforms.
