

To Ensure Children's Nap

On New Year's Day in 2015, the respected Comrade Kim Jong Un visited the Pyongyang Baby Home and Orphanage.

He said to the officials of the baby home and orphanage: I have come here straight after delivering the New Year's Address in order to enjoy the New Year's Day together with the children who long for parental affection.

After looking round the baby home, he headed for the orphanage.

When he entered the room of junior class No. 2, the children were singing to the tune of their teacher's organ.

They sang cheerfully in reflection of their gratitude for him who ensured that an excellent palace without an equal in the world was built for them, as well as their happy life of growing up with nothing to envy in the world.

Comrade Kim Jong Un saw them with a beaming smile on his face, as if he felt relieved of all worries.

He then asked the principal of the orphanage if it was time for the children to take a nap, and said that they should sleep.

The principal said they were all right and that they could not go to sleep as the fatherly Marshal visited their orphanage.

But Comrade Kim Jong Un shook his head.

Looking around the children seeing him with twinkling eyes, he asked the principal to take the children to the bedroom, saying that he wanted to see them sleeping in their cribs.

Therefore, the children went into their bedroom.

After looking at them seeking for the sleep in their cribs, Comrade Kim Jong Un wore a smile as if he felt relieved.
