

With Warm Affection for People

One July day in 2018, the respected Comrade Kim Jong Un visited the Songmak Atlantic Salmon Pedigree Farm.

After looking round a fishpond, he said in delight: The outdoor fishponds are swarming with fishes. The freshwater salmons are tasty and they are more viable and grow faster than other species of salmons.

Making the rounds of the farm to learn about its management and operation, he paid close attention to the issue of ensuring the taste of the fish on a high level.

He said: Fish does not always taste good though it is big. It is important to grow fish after confirming the limit of their growth by kilogramme according to their species.

Feasting his eyes on the salmons in the fishponds of indoor block No. 1, he said that the Workers' Party of Korea attaches importance to the farming of Atlantic salmon in order to make the people benefit from the widespread farming of the tasty fish.

He often visited ports and fish farms to provide people with better dietary conditions, out of an earnest desire to sufficiently supply them with tasty fishes of highly nutritive value.